CPD day in Stratford Upon Avon

Wondering how to give your children a great first encounter with Shakespeare? In our two hour practical workshop you will discover the best ways to engage and inspire children through a hands-on approach to discovering Shakespeare in the primary classroom. You will:

- Explore Shakespeare through a range of cross-curricular activities
- Gain an understanding of the importance of genuine historical and archival research and evidence
- Link learning about Shakespeare to the new Primary curriculum
- Discover how to devise whole-school Shakespeare themes and work with cluster schools
- Look at Shakespeare's plays in the context of the time in which they were written
- Learn how to embed Shakespeare Week into your school's curriculum and start your children on their journey with Shakespeare
- Prove to your pupils how Shakespeare is as relevant today as he was 400 years ago

This course is for all Primary school teachers, whether they have a good understanding of Shakespeare or have simply watched Shakespeare in Love! All teachers will leave with increased confidence, a toolkit of free resources and inspirational ideas, ready to bring Shakespeare to life in the Primary classroom. The Shakespeare Birthplace Trust (SBT) owns and cares for five Shakespeare houses in and around Stratford-upon-Avon. It is the mission of SBT to lead the world's enjoyment and understanding of Shakespeare's work, life and times. SBT provides educational experiences for schools, universities and visitors from around the world

Nicola Hawley and Sarah Fisher are Education Officers at the Shakespeare Birthplace Trust. They are experienced primary school teachers and have delivered CPD to teachers in both school and heritage settings. Following the national success of Shakespeare Week, which engaged over a million children with the world's most famous playwright, they are keen to share best practice for teaching Shakespeare in the primary classroom.
